Russo-Turkish Conflict

GREAT TURKISH VICTORY.

Twenty-four Thousand Russians Hors-de-Combat.

THE RUSSIANS SOUTH OF THE BALKANS IMPERILED.

AUSTRIA TAKES THE FIELD.

PESTH, August 1.—A Vienna special states that the ministry have decided to mobilize three army corps, which will be echloned on the frontiers of Dalmatia, Crotia and Sclavonia.

LONDON, August 1.—The Times' correspondent at Vienna utterly discredits the defeat of Ahmed Eyoub Pasha, and says: "After the concentration of the Turks around Shumla a considerable portion of their forces were ordered to advance, by way of Eshi Djuma and Osman Bazar, upon Tirnova, to unite with Osman Pasha there, and then fall on the rear of the Russian detachments which have passed the Balkans. The Turks therefore have only been able to leave a feeble corps of observation, which will take good care not to encounter an enemy superior in numbers. The position of the Russians in the Shipka and Slivno Passes, and on the southern slope of the Balkans, is becoming hourly more grave. Their effective forces that echloned on this line don't exceed 50,000 men, which are threatened from four sides simultaneously, from Adrianople and Jamboli by Suliman Pasha, and from Osman Bazar by Mehemet Ali, while Osman Pasha is advancing in the direction of Selvi, and a reserve corps from Sofia could approach by way of Philippopolis. It seems also that the Russians are not making much progress before Silestria and Rustchuk where they are meeting with desperate resistance. Gen. Zimmerman's corps, advancing through Dobrudscha, are greatly menaced by the right wing of the Turkish army from Varna and Paravadi.

The ninth army corps has become almost incapable of fighting in consequence of the losses it suffered at Nikopolis and Plevna.

Several telegrams mention the fact that the Roumanians occupied Nikopolis at the request of the Russians as a proof that the Russian cause is not prospering. The Times Bucharest correspondent says: "It is reported that the Roumanian division, commanded by Gen Mann, after leaving a small garrison at Nikopolis marched in the direction of Plevna."

The Manchester Guardian's Vienna correspondent reports that the Czarewitch's army is retreating towards the river Nautna.

BUCHAREST, August 1.—Reports are current that Mehemet Ali, with 60,000 men, have arrived at Osman Bazar; a smaller Russian detachment is retreating before him. Mehemet Ali is trying to effect a juncture with Osman Pasha, but cannot accomplish this without giving battle in open field. The Russians are waiting for such an opportunity most impatiently.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—Austria has abandoned her passive position for one of armed neutrality. Twenty-four million forins must be raised for the proposed mobilization.

The Italian fleet is at Taranto.

Specials to the Daily Telegraph assert that the Turks were victorious in the battles at Yeni Saghra and Plevna, and that the Russians are retreating to the Balkans pursued by Suleiman.

RAGUSA, July 29.—The Cossacks, on approach of Suleiman Pasha's scouts, fell back toward the river Tiete, which shows that the Russian corps which on the 27th held Tietesoum, had fallen back on Yantra. Communication has been re-established with Rustchuk.

LONDON, August 1.—A despatch to the Telegraph, dated Pera, July 31, midnight, says: "Intelligence just received here from Osman Pasha, announces a great Turkish victory. The enemy were completely routed after two days' severe fighting, with a loss of 8,000 killed and 16,005 wounded."

The Turks captured a great quantity of arms and ammunition. The Turkish casualties are comparatively small, owing to the fact that they fought upon the defensive.

Schurz and Key Make Speeches.

WASHINGTON, August 1.—Hayes, Key and Schurz were at the Schuetzenfest last night. Secretary Schurz spoke, and, in concluding, cautioned his own countrymen against drinking too much.

Postmaster General Key also spoke, in the course of his remarks saying of Mr. Hayes, "he was a singular President."

Terrible Explosion.

PITTSBURGH, PA., August 1.—By an explosion in a mould of hot metal at the foundry of R. C. Tolif & Co., Liberty street, yesterday, two men were fatally and eight seriously burned. The noise of the explosion was heard several squares.

Capture of Communists.

ST. LOUIS, August 1.—Two executive committees of the rioters in East St. Louis have been captured. The captnre of others is expected.

Rioters Imprisoned.

CHICAGO, August 1.—United States District Judge Drummond sentenced eight rioters, brought from Peoria, to four months' imprisonment and fifty dollars fine for contempt.

Cremated.

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 1.—The body of Dr. C. T. Winslow was cremated. The heart was taken to Nantucket, his native place, and the ashes to the grave of his wife, near Boston.

No Consolidation.

NEW YORK, August 1.—Within about a month the price of the Western Union Telegraph stock has advanced from 55⅝ to 71⅜. Reports of a consolidation of the Atlantic & Pacific and the Western Union Companies, or an agreement by which the rates were to be advanced upon a basis decided upon by the two companies, have been repeatedly circulated on Wall street. These reports were renewed yesterday. Inquiries at the offices of both companies elicited the statement that the reports were not based upon any official action of the companies, and the officers were not acquainted with any outside movement looking to any agreement or union between the companies.

Bricklayers' Strike--The Army Worm.

MEMPHIS, August 1.—The brickmoulders are on strike for 25 per cent. advance on the price paid during the past five years. The street force of the gas company demanded an advance. All discharged.

The army worm is in the cotton fields of North Mississippi.

Howard's Report of the Indian War.

General Howard telegraphs from his headquarters on the Clearwater, near Kamiah, under date of July 27th, as follows: "I have asked to have the troops at Missoula to detain Joseph until I can strike his rear." Howard says in another despatch: "Everything is in the best possible condition for the present, and the capture of the enemy is certain, providing the Montana troops can check his advance."

THE SPENT STRIKE.

TRAINS RUNNING ON ALL THE RAILROADS.

THE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD DECLARES A DIVIDEND.

Serious Trouble in Wilkesbarre.

THE MOB FIRED INTO.

COLUMBUS, O., August 1.—Seven freight trains went eastward on the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati & St. Louis Railroad and one westward this morning. Six westward bound freight trains arrived here at noon. The police took control of the yards, assisted by two companies of military. There was not a shadow of opposition, but, on the contrary, every one present seemed pleased at the condition of affairs. The Baltimore & Ohio Company's local officers have been officially notified to receive freight

WILKESBARRE, PA., August 1—Trains left both ways on the Valley Road this morning without disturbance. At noon a local train for Pittston was boarded by strikers, and the engine cut loose and run into the round house.

A mail train bound north on the Valley Railroad, and due here at 2 P. M., was detained three quarters of an hour by a crowd of 7,000 persons at the depot. The strikers uncoupled the passenger coaches and engines and threw the coupling bolts in the canal. The bolts were replaced and United States detective officers were stationed on the platform to watch them. The train was backed below the depot, and, under a full head of steam, shot past the strikers. Some of them attempted to board the train but failed. Trouble is anticipated when the next train reaches here.

PHILADELPHIA, August 1.—The board of directors of the Pennsylvania Railroad to-day decided to pass the usual quarterly dividend on the stock of that company. The board considers it advisable to use its available cash in repairing the recent damage to its property.

WILESBARRE, PA., Aug. 1.—A crowd of six or seven thousand people assembled at the Lehigh Valley depot to see mail trains from the South come in.

At 3:45 o'clock this afternoon the strikers were out in force. A constable and a United States detective, who were standing on the platform next to the engine, were stoned. Master Mechanic Drumpeller was running the engine. The strikers stoned him until he had to get off. As he did so he was struck in the face with a stone. The strikers were cheered. They mounted the engine, cut it loose and ran it to Sugar Notch. John Keitler, the constable, was seized by the mob and roughly handled. They were going to duck him in the canal, and would have killed him but for interference of friends. He is now in the station house for protection. The mob followed him through the streets, hooting and yelling. A large number of passengers were compelled to lay over here. The strikers had an engine taken from the train and are running it up and down the road, blowing the whistle and cheering. The miners and railroad men are coalescing, and trouble is feared.

SCRANTON, PA., Aug. 1.—About 11:30 this morning near five thousand men, armed with clubs and revolvers, forced all the employes of the L. I. & C. Co., who had returned to work, after a brief strike, to desist. They then proceeded to the car shops of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad Company and drove the men from their posts, and threatened to destroy the car shops and office. Not satisfied with this they violently assaulted several employes, both in the shop and office, and many of them sustained painful, though not serious wounds. Mayor McKane hastened to the scene, and at the same time sent word to a volunteer organization of young men which had been guarding extensive stores of the L. I. & C. Company for about a week past. The Mayor's arrival at the scene of the melee was a signal for a general attack upon him, and but for the interposition of Father Dunn, a Catholic Priest, he would probably have been killed. He escaped, however, with a double fracture of the jaw. In the meanwhile some forty or fifty of the volunteers marched down Lackawana Avenue to Washington, where they were met by the rioters, and, after a brief assault with clubs and stones, fired into the crowd, killing four men. The hoodlums, and, in fact, everybody were dispersed, and as they ran several fell seriously wounded. The company returned to their quarters unmolested. All places of business are closed by order of the mayor, and citizens are joining the volunteers in large numbers. Troops have been sent for and are expected to-night, when fresh trouble is feared. In the meanwhile the streets are being cleared by the police and volunteers.

THE EASTERN WAR.

THE TURKS ABANDON THE FABIAN POLICY.

THE RUSSIANS BETWEEN TIRNOVA AND THE BALKAN PASSES PROBABLY IN A BAD WAY.

THE RUSSIAN NOTE.

An Appeal to English Fairness.

LONDON, August 1.—Out of the numerous conflicting reports from Bulgaria, during the past week, one substantial and very important fact is gleaned: that the Turks have abandoned their Fabian policy, and are making a serious attack on both flanks of the Russians. The latter have been forced to suspend aggressive movements and concentrate on their central line from Biela to Tirnova, as pointed out by the Times' Vienna correspondent to-day. If Osman Pasha and Lieutenant-General Mehemet Ali succeed in joining hands, between Tirnova and the Balkan passes, it will be fatal to the Russians south of the mountains.

Thus far only Turkish reports of fighting have been received since the first battle at Plevna, but it is surmised, with a strong appearance of probability, that if the Russians were faring prosperously we would have official bulletins from St. Petersburg.

LONDON, August 1.—A note received by the Russian Secretary of State from the headquarters of the Grand Duke Nicholas, where the Czar is sojourning, as to the sinking of vessels in the Sulina mouth of the Danube, and the employment of Egyptian troops in the service of Turkey, says: "As soon as the war is ended the Russians will remove the impediments and clear the bed of the river. With regard to the other point the note states that to calm the anxiety of the British Cabinet, his Imperial Majesty has instructed the Russian Ambassador in London to declare to Earl Derby that we harbored no project of aggression against Egypt. Might we not have expected, therefore, that in fairness the British government would use its influence with the Khedive to prevent him from engaging in direct hostilities against us? In our last fights in the Balkans our soldiers found themselves opposed to Egyptian troops, and it will, perhaps, suffice to point out this fact to justify the hope that if the British government desires that its interest shall not be compromised by aggression on our part against Egypt, it will also use its influence there to prevent us from being forced, by the open hostilities of the vice regal government, to take steps to prevent a renewal of them."

WASHINGTON.

The President's Order Countermanded--The Ohio Republican Nominee for Governor.

WASHINGTON, August 1.—The President has countermanded his order for General Sherman's immediate return to headquarters.

The Republican State Convention at Cleaveland, Ohio, nominated William H. West for Governor.

Moses Released on Bail.

COLUMBIA, August 1.—Ex-Governor F. J. Moses, who has been imprisoned here for a week past, has been released on $10,000 bail while testifying before the investigating committee relative to the recent political history of the State.

Debt Statement.

WASHINGTON, August 1.—Decrease for the month, $818,000; coin in the Treasury nearly $98,000,000; currency nearly $10,000,000; receipts from internal revenue were reduced at least one million dollars by the strike, receipts from customs for month, $10,000,000; from internal revenue, $8,750,000.

Probabilities.

WASHINGTON, August 1.—For the South Atlantic States falling barometer; increasing northeast winds; cloudy and rainy weather, with stationary or lower temperature, followed by lower pressure, and rainy followed by partly cloudy weather.

Failure.

CHICAGO, August 1.—The failure of J. S. & W. G. Mead & Co., wholesale grocers, of South Water street, is announced. Their liabilities are unknown.

Bishops Kerfoot and Twigg.

Bishop Kerfoot, of the Protestant Episcopal diocese, of Pittsburgh, issued a circular letter after the riot enjoining the clergy under his charge "to teach calmly and fully now the mutual relations and obligations of the rich and poor, their brotherhood even now in God and in Christ; the absolute duty of peaceful submission to the laws of the land and to its rulers, as being, both of these, the ordinances of God; the sinfulness of any act of violence or wrong to persons or property; and that God will overthrow any men or any class who do not do justly and love mercy in their dealings with their fellow-men, or who do not, especially in such days as these, walk humbly with their God." Bishop Twigg, of the Roman Catholic Church, was among the most active of the citizens during the two terrible days of riot in the attempt to restore order. He personally addressed the mob at the round-house, commanding such as were Catholics to return to their homes, but was met by a storm of oaths and hisses. Nothing daunted, he went among the rioters, and whenever he recognized one of them as a Catholic he ordered him at once out of the crowd, and saw to it that he went.—N. Y. World.

THE GOLDEN STATE.

Prof. Tomlinson's Lecture on California, Delivered at Chapel Hill, Friday July 27th.

[Special Correspondence of the News.]

CHAPEL HILL, July 31, 1877.

Time was when a trip to California was classed in the same category as an expedition to the North Pole or the South Sea Islands, and adventurous persons bent on attempting it were urged before they left to make their wills and settle their affairs, but in those terrible days the journey had to be made across the broad prairies, and rivers, and barren deserts and lofty mountains and through hostile tribes of savages—or a long, long voyage down the billowy Atlantic, around Cape Horn and up the Pacific on the other side of this wide continent before the goal was reached—but now he is whirled across the continent in from 4 to 7 days with ease and speed and comfort. Though California has been celebrated in books and newspapers for more than a score of years, yet it is really but little known to the general public. It is still in literature a land of savage Indians, of rough miners, pistols, bowie knives, discomforts, dangers, big beets and pumpkins, queer wines and high prices.

But such is not the case. There are no dangers to the general traveler in the State, there are no inconveniences which a woman might not laugh at—they dine in San Francisco better and more elegantly than they do in New York; the hotels are the largest and the best in the world; the people are civil, obliging, honest, hospitable and cultured, and a civilization as complete in all material points as any to be found in the United States; a powerful empire within itself, with a still greater destiny before it. * * *

But that there is something indescribably fascinating about California all who have been there admit that there is a peculiar play of light and shadow on the hills and in the heart; an atmosphere both social and aerial which is inspiriting; something really fascinating in its sunshine, and in its rain, in its stock gambling and in its earthquakes, in its social life and business life, all who have felt the sublime influence very well know. The wanderer on entering this enchanted land finds there his home, which, if he attempts to return to the land of his nativity, seems to draw him back with invisible chords. Some magic spell is ready for every one who puts his foot upon that land. With one it is love of adventure, with another intellectual liberty, with another cosmopolitan society, freedom from social restraints, politics, religion, avarice, dissipation and so on. From the beginning an air of romance, sometimes sad, generally bright and buoyant, seems to have encircled everything Californian. * * * *

The Professor gave a detailed and very interesting account of a trip across the continent. He said: "The whole trip especially from the Missouri is full of interest and untiring. Within the Pullman Parlor Car by day and sleeper by night, one is free to-day to gaze upon boundless prairies—to-morrow to behold long ranges of snow clad mountains—free to read, talk, sleep and eat ad libitum of the well catered elk, buffalo, antelope, and game of every kind and suited to the most fastidious taste.

The vast plains, the herds of buffalo, the painted Indian and his wigwam, the squaw and her papoose, the antelope gracefully gliding o'er the plains, the numerous "cities" of prairie dogs, the beautiful canons, the deep narrow passes through which leap snow fed streams of pure water, the opening gorges, the lofty overhanging cliffs, the grim weird unshapely and untold ways, the "Valley of Death" so-called, "The Devil's Slide" and the "Devil's Gate" fit entrance to Great Salt Lake and the "City of Saints"—all these conspire to form a series of wonderful surprises to the traveler, making his cup of pleasure to run over at the delights of the novel sights of the way. Sweeping around the northern shore of great Salt Lake, with all its picturesque scenery, on into Nevada, down the beautiful valley of the Humboldt, we commence scaling the snowy heights of the Sierra Nevadas. The summit gained, we cross the State line, and in conformity with the motto of the State, shout "Eureka," for we have now entered the promised land. Here are the Alps of America. Here the white-headed mountains covered with forests of giant trees, the deep ravines, the sparkling water-falls, the crystal lakes, which far below appear as silver settings in deep, dark forests of spruce and pine and fir, afford scenes of matchless beauty and grandeur.

But up and down and on we go, through long lines of dark snow sheds, plunging through tunnels, turning hither and thither, now running back, parallel with the track just traversed, which lies either far above or far below us.

Here the Professor described vividly the "Cape Horn" of the Sierras, and how, when the first work was commenced, men had to be suspended in baskets and dig away from the mountain side a foothold upon which to stand and work.

After winding around "Cape Horn," and a hundred other precipitous cliffs, you make a grand, stormy rush down the western slope of the Sierras, across the valley of the Sacramento, over the coast range, and in a few hours are on the very shore of the broad and beautiful Pacific. The entrance to this new Italy is as charming and wonderful as though it were the gate of a veritable fairy land; all the sights are novel, strange, and striking, and on a most magnificent scale. The whole face of nature is changed as if by magic. Beneath, above, around, all things are different.

* * * * * *

In defining the geographical limits of the State he said: The State is walled up on the East by the Sierras and skirted on the West from 5 to 25 miles from the sea, by the smaller coast range of mountains; between which two mountain chains extends the great valley of California, formed by the Sacramento river flowing down from the North and the San Joaquin from the South. These two rivers unite their waters and bear down to San Francisco.

The State reaches to the length of 750 miles and extends in breadth about 250 miles, making an area of 190000 square miles. 190000! how much is that. Let us compare a moment. North Carolina has 50,000 square miles. Then California is equal in area to States of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia and North Carolina all combined. Or it is equal to all the great States of New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, taken together with Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New Hampshire and Delaware thrown in. Once again, the State is equal to the combined areas of England, Scotland, Ireland, Belgium, Wales, Denmark, Switzerland and Greece. In 1542 California was for the first time seen by a white man, a Portuguese navigator in the service of Spain. In 1769 more than 200 years later, and about 100 years ago, a party of Franciscan Friars came up from the peninsula and established missions for the conversion of the Indians and thus made a permanent settlement. This is one of the two great important periods in the history of the country. In 1821 California became a part of Independent Mexico. In 1846 the American navy seized Monterey, the capitol, from which time the American authority dates. In January, 1848, gold was discovered. This is the second important period in the peculiar history of the country. In 1850 California became a State. Since the first occupation of this country by Europeans we find two distinct phases of society for which history cannot give a parallel.

Both are individual. The one is independent of the other and neither can ever be reproduced.

One is life under missionary dominion and the other the flush times following the gold discovery.

* * * * * *

Gold was first discovered on the premises of Capt. Sutter on the 19th of January, 1848, by James Marshall, while engaged in digging a mill race.

The Professor's description of the gold fever was highly entertaining, showing how the villages became deserted, the professions died out, business men left paying positions; in fact all fled their calling and rushed with death-like rapidity to the cry of gold! gold! This is the way California became peopled.

* * * * * * * * *

It is strange that this land should have remained so long after poorer countries on either side were taken up. Strange that the hundreds of millions of treasure should have remained so long locked up in the foot hills of the Sierras. It is really strange that this fairest spot of earth, situated on the grandest of oceans, in the very middle of the North temperate zone, should have been reserved, as it seems to have been fresh and free by Providence, or accident, or fate, or what you will,—reserved at least until all the world was known and settled, until science was well advanced and art was revolutionizing life, and thought was free, to be the last settled by civilization. We can truly say that the western end of the earth is found, for now there is no more left of this little earth between the walls of fire and eternal frost. No more unoccupied temperate zone, no more of God's government land suitable for the white man, which may be had for the clearing of wild men and beasts.

Here the beginnings of great States on [illegible] scale have been but three. Either the origin was developed from a germ, as the civilization of Asia; or a colony was transplanted from a foreign soil, as France and Spain and England; or a scion of one nation was grafted into the stock of another, as the Roman colonies These three classes well embrace all settlements except that of California, which is very unlike all these, and which seems to form a peculiar and distinct class sui generis.

It was a huddling of humanity together from all corners of the world into one unoccupied spot, originally drawn thither for gold, and but for the discovery never would have been so drawn. Their greed for gold being somewhat assuaged, or rather turned towards occupation other than that of digging, they mingle and settle down into one unique and progressive society.

* * * * *

There is but very little that is theoretical without the practicability in this new Empire of the West. Stripped of old time prejudices men think for themselves. Here the "survival of the fittest" in the world's art, industry, science and literature is sure to prevail. There are emptied the world's storehouse of knowledge and the accumulation of all human experiences.

Latest born of all nations, all other nations assemble at thy birth.

Cosmopolitan by theory and instinct, it belongs to no polity, sect or creed, but to humanity. Although under the immediate sway of Americans and American institutions, any citizen of the world may become its citizen and be made one with its people and interests. Joined as it is with a Union of States, with which it has more or less sympathy, it really does much as it pleases, and feels the pulsations of weal or woe on this side the continent in but a faint degree. It's like a State on other world or continent. The great panics which have depressed the Atlantic States have created scarcely a ripple on the Pacific Coast. It scorns at greenbacks with a bitter scorn, and gold and silver are its only money.

In speaking of San Francisco, he said: San Francisco, the terminus of the Trans-continental Railroad, is the most peculiar and interesting city in the world. It is situated on the southern side of San Francisco bay. The bay is broad and deep, like a highland loch, with massive portals and well bounded borders, and is unsurpassed by any the sun ever shone upon. It is connected with the Pacific by a strait about half a mile wide, which breaks through a range of low mountains, and has been very appropriately called the "Golden Gate," as through it hundreds of thousands from all the regions of the world are hastening to gather their golden wealth. The first rude shanty was built forty years ago, and now Frisco teems with more than 200,000 souls, and through the Golden Gate come and go many thousands of steamers from and to all parts of the habitable globe. Out of the 200,000 inhabitants only about 70,000 were born of American parents, and the Americans born of foreign parentage is about 30,000, making the number of genuine foreigners 100,000, one-third of whom are the Chinese, the least desirable of all the polylingreal element.

* * * *

The Professor paid a beautiful tribute to this beautiful city, praising its ambition for progress in everything, in humanity. In referring to the Chinamen he said, "They are the least desirable element in the population of California. They leave their women and their household goods in China, and all intend to return sooner or later to their Flowery Kingdom. In their own opinion China is the only truly civilized nation on the earth, and Americans are barbarians. Yet they come and make in a few years what to them in China would be deemed a fortune, for they can live there on three cents a day. It is estimated that 75,000 now on the Pacific coast deport to China no less than $12,000,000 annually. They ship everything they can earn, even to their own dead bodies, which they have'nt earned. Their statue is small, their complexion olive colored, and in their round, brown face is obliquely set a pair of almond eyes.

In the city they live huddled together in that portion called China Town, once a suburb, but now in the very heart of the city. A minute and detailed account of the habits, industrial, social and moral, if they have any of the latter, brought the Professor to the close of one of the most interesting lectures given during the course. Marked attention was given throughout, and a great interest was manifested.

Prof. Tomlinson is a North Carolinian, and one of whom we should be justly proud. Besides, he was educated in our own State, a still greater reason for our pride. He is, in every acceptation of the word, a gentleman and a polished scholar.

STATE NEWS.

To-day the railroad election takes place in Chowan county.

The Oxford Torchlight says it is rumored that some escaped convicts are hidden in the woods near that place.

Wilmington seems to enjoy a surplus of mad dogs. Another one was killed Sunday after scaring a Methodist sunday school nearly to death.

Charlotte Observer: Gen. D. H. Hill leaves to-day for some point in Canada which the reporter did not learn, there to deliver an address by invitation upon the subject of the grange, its origin, work and purposes.

Oxford Torchlight: We are informed by a gentleman from the neighborhood of Tally Ho, that a great deal of tobacco has rotted on the hill from the effects of the late rains. The prospects for other crops are good. The wheat yield was abundant.

Alamance Gleaner: Lonnie, the little son of J. L. Scott in our town, had the misfortune to fall from a hogshead which he was rolling by standing on top of it, and dislocated his arm at the elbow joint. Dr. Long was called in and readjusted the joints, and the little fellow is doing well.

Wilmington Star: A rather singular phenomenon occurred at Oakdale Cemetery on Sunday afternoon, about 1 o'clock. We all know how almost perfectly calm it was during the entire day, with scarcely a leaf to be seen stirring on the trees or a breath of air to be felt. The colored sexton at Oakdale says it was the same case out there until about the time specified, when suddenly a roaring sound was heard and a young herricane came rushing down the ravine and creek bordering on the west side of the cemetery, taking its course due southward, passing through the lodge near the gate, scattering papers, &c., in every direction, and threatening destruction to everything in its way.

A correspondent of the Monroe Express says: On the 19th inst., about 2 o'clock, P. M., the neighborhood of Marsh's mill, on Lane's Creek, was frightened by a strange noise resembling at times the rattling of an empty tram, at others, heavy thunder. A very black smoke was seen up the creek, and, on its appearance, to add to its dreadful appearance, brush and treetops were seen at a distance of three miles floating in the air, which rendered it the resemblance of a violent hurricane. On the plantations of J. A. Marsh and H. G. Green, saplings were seen plucked up by the roots, trees twisted off, corn and cotton laid waste, and stones that would weigh from forty to sixty pounds were moved a distance of two or three feet on level land.

A unique kind of tribunal commenced its session in the Asheville Court-room Tuesday morning, and the question before the Court was whether Col. Fagg is a suitable person to hold such an office as that of postmaster for Asheville. The investigation came about in this way, J. G. Hester, addressed a letter to his department stating that the contents of a letter containing abstracts of deputy marshals' accounts was known to parties implicated, before his arrival (after a temporary absence) and that he received the letter broken open and tied with a string. He further charged that the postmaster "was a person of the most vulgar and obscene habits of life and should not be permitted to hold the office even if he attended to his official duties correctly." Upon this showing supported by the testimony of Pinkney Rollins and others, Fagg was suspended. In the meantime, Capt. A. G. Sharp was sent to Asheville as agent of the Post-office Department to make the investigation and it is at the instance and request of Col. Fagg and his friends that the evidence is taken in the most public manner. Gen. Hampton conducts the prosecution, and Capt. McLoud, Gen. Martin and Capt. Cocke appear for the defence.

SOUTHERN NEWS.

A cavalry company has been raised in Baltimore county, Md.

The Virginia Conservative Convention meets in Richmond, August 8th.

The Georgians will hold a State Agricultural Convention at Newnan on August 14.

There is great distress among poor people in the mining regions of Western Maryland.

An Atlanta letter carrier travels twelve miles daily, for which he gets $65 per month.

The summer meeting of the State Grange of South Carolina takes place at Anderson C. H., on the 8th inst.

The gross earnings of the Atlanta and West Point Railroad during the past year amounted to $311,158.82, and the expenses to $182,206.98, leaving the net earnings $128,919.84.

Petersburg Index-Appeal, 31st ult: The first bale of new cotton passed through this city on the A., M. & O. Railroad, on Saturday. It was shipped from Texas, and was destined for Boston, via Norfolk.

There is pending before the Georgia Constitutional Convention a proposition to do away with the Agricultural and Geological Departments. The committee to whom the bill was referred reported favorably upon it.

On Thursday last, in a difficulty which occurred at Garnett's store, Curdsville, Buckingham county, Va., Mr. William Saunders, a highly respectable young citizen, was shot and dangerously wounded by Robert Ould, Jr., formerly of Richmond.

There was some excitement in Portsmouth, Va., Monday. On that morning the colored laborers employed at the steam saw mill of Messrs. Armstrong & Son, to the number of fifteen, refused to go to work as usual, insisting on a reduction of time or an increase of wages.

During the freight blockade the owners of the Patapsco Mills, at Ellicott City, Md., were compelled to use wagons for transportation purposes. Thirty teams were required; and the sights on the turnpike to Baltimore reminded one of the olden times before railroads were built. These mills were founded by the Ellicotts over a century ago.

The Richmond Theatre, in which the Virginia conservative State convention will assemble on the 8th of August, has 1,400 seats. The number of delegates is 1,410. They will not all be present, however; yet, as the contest for the nomination is a most animated one, there will probably be a large proportion of the delegates in attendance—not to mention the alternates, friends, &c.

The colored girl Jennie Brown, who was so badly shot on the Fourth of July on the steamer N. P. Banks by Assistant Surgeon A. A. G. Wilson, of the United States frigate Franklin, at Norfolk, Va., lingered until Friday night, when she expired, at the hospital of St. Vincent de Paal. Dr. Wilson, who was at large on bail, was re-arrested and committed to jail. Wm. Brown, who was also shot by Dr. Wilson, at the same time, has recovered.

THE UNIVERSITY NORMAL SCHOOL.

The University Normal School will close on Thursday morning, August 9th. On Wednesday night preceding there will be a free vocal and instrumental concert by the pupils of the school, assisted by Prof. Wilson and his brother, Mr. Charles Wilson. On Thursday morning there will be a debate by chosen representatives of the Normal School Debating Society; after which Gov. Vance will make a short valedictory address to the class.

The experiment has been crowned with the most gratifying success. One of the lady pupils writes us in glowing terms of the school, the lectures, the village, &c. She says: Those who have visited Chapel Hill know that it is unquestionably one of the most pleasant and delightful little villages in our State. It is especially so now while the normal school is in session. Young ladies and gentlemen from almost every section of the State—people who are full of life, vim and animation, are all harmoniously working together in the same great cause, and earnestly endeavoring to better prepare themselves for the responsible vocation which they expect to fill after leaving this grand old institution of learning.

This normal school is certainly the dawning of a new era in our beloved State. It is a step in the right direction. The people are beginning to be thoroughly aroused to their intellectual interest and advancement. That apathetic torpidity of intellect which has clung to them so long is fast awakening and passing away, and the day is not far distant when North Carolina will proudly stand up, one among the first in the land, as a patroness of art, science and literature. How gloriously brilliant gleams the silvery star of hope before us, leading us on, step by step, up the lofty and rugged steep which reaches to the gilded pinnacle of literary fame and renown. We will reach it, because we say we must, honestly believing that 'where there is a will there is a way.'

The elevating and refining influences which this normal school is infusing into the very life of every individual here, will spread itself abroad, and be felt throughout our land.

The corps of teachers is unexceptionable, and too much praise cannot be said of them. We hear of no fault-finding or complaining—all are satisfied, contented and happy. Every one has had a plenty to do. The instruction given in every department has been simple, explicit and definite. All could readily understand, that is if they have any understanding at all. The lectures, too, by the different professors, have not only been very instructive but highly interesting and entertaining. Prof. Ladd's daily practical lectures on the trials of the school-room and how to meet them, have been of especial interest and value. Indeed, they continue to grow in interest from day to day. These lectures alone are considered worth one's time remaining at Chapel Hill to hear. The young ladies say, "they are just simply splendid."

The lectures of Governor Vance, Hon. Kemp P. Battle, Hon. A. M. Waddell, Prof. Kerr, Mr. F. H. Busbee, Prof. Moffat, and others, were instructive and enjoyable. Everything has passed off well, meeting the most sanguine expectations; the pupils have spent the time most pleasantly and profitably, and they will no doubt depart from the classic shades of Chapel Hill with many pangs of regret, carrying away with them a bright throng of charming recollections, associations and friendships that will live forever.

ANOTHER DEPARTURE FROM PRINCIPLE.

Contrary to the genius of our free institutions, monopolies have been allowed, and the seeds of trouble sown broadcast over the land. With like disregard of the fundamental principles of our government, the means for suppressing insurrection have been grossly neglected. The second article of amendment to the Federal Constitution enforces the idea that "a well regulated militia" is "necessary to the security of a free State." Washington, Jefferson, Adams, Hamilton, Jay, Madison, and others of the leading statesmen of the early days of the republic were deeply impressed with this truth. It was unanimously admitted that "a well regulated militia is the most natural defence of a free country;" that it is the most certain method of preventing the existence of a large standing army—"the only substitute," in fact, as said by Alexander Hamilton, "that can be devised for a standing army; and the best possible security against it if it should exist."

The wise teachings of the "Fathers of the Republic," in this respect, have been too much ignored. There are few States in which a well regulated militia, or any substitute for it, has been kept up. Maryland, West Virginia and Pennsylvania neglected this important matter, and in consequence were utterly unable alone to put down the mobs and restore law and order, but had to call on the President of the United States for help. The Governor of West Virginia was defied by a few hundred insurgents; the Chief Magistrate of Maryland at the first onset of the mob cried out for federal troops, and Governor Hartranft exhibited the most pitiable weakness—he quailed at the first sight of "the headless monster." The States of New York and New Jersey, on the contrary, demonstrated their ability to preserve the public peace. They each had "a well regulated militia,"—fully armed, equipped, disciplined, supplied with ammunition and ready for such occasions for the employment of force as Alexander Hamilton had in his mind's eye, when he wrote,—

"Our own experience has corroborated the lessons taught by the examples of other nations; that emergencies of this sort will sometimes exist in all societies, however constituted; that seditions and insurrections are, unhappily, maladies as inseparable from the body politic, as tumors and eruptions from the natural body; that the idea of governing at all times by the simple force of law, (which we have been told is the only admissible principle of republican government), has no place but in the reverieof those political doctors, whose sagacity disdains the admonitions of experimental instruction."

The splendid militia organizations—the National or State Guards—of New York and New Jersey, co-operating with strong police forces in the cities, repressed insurrection and maintained order, saving hundreds of lives and millions of property. They were under no necessity to ask assistance from Washington. They demonstrated very clearly that each sovereign State of this Union can, with "a well regulated militia," take care of itself, unaided by the federal power; and if each one of the States will follow the example of New York and New Jersey, in this respect, maintaining a proper militia establishment, there will be no excuse for increasing the federal army.

J. R. B. ADAMS, ESQ., of Oak Forest Iredell county, fully endorses the account given of Peter Stuart Ney by Col. T. F. Houston, of Houstonia, Missouri, recently published in the NEWS. Mr. Adams, who seems to have been well acquainted with this mysterious personage, is satisfied from his own original observations of the man, that he was none other than the veritable Marshal, the fame of whose bravery fills the world. There is one strong point against the truth of this story. Peter Stuart Ney was a learned man; a fine mathematician; "the best linguist in the western part of North Carolina" in his day; a noted educator; a devotee to the profession of teaching; a fine scholar and courtly gentleman. Michael Ney was never a scholar; he had little classical education; and it is hardly possible that he could have acquired the learning attributed to Peter Stuart Ney after his military career ended. However the story possesses interest, and we wish to see all the light thrown upon it possible.

THE lecture of Prof. Tomlinson on California, delivered before the University Normal School, is one of the most interesting of the series with which the normal pupils have been entertained and instructed this season. A full report of the lecture is presented elsewhere in our columns this morning.

THE bloody shirt organs of the North are now taking a rest. Raw-head-and-bloody-bones editorials on "Southern lawlessness" have suddenly ceased to appear. The "outrage mill" is occupied entirely with home-made grist.

THE tide of war seems to have turned again in favor of the Turks. But then the report of the great victory of Osman Pasha comes from Osman himself, and is not to be taken without some grains of allowance.

THE decision of the Austrian Ministry to put three army corps in the field, on the frontiers, may be taken as a premonition of more decided action, in case the Russians threaten Constantinople.

PERSONAL INTELLIGENCE.

At the Mahone's Brigade reunion in Petersburg there were six hundred veterans in line.

Philadelphia Times: Congressman Scales, of North Carolina, believes he has some chances for the Speakership and has been in Washington to see about it.

John G. Thompson has been re-elected chairman of the Democratic State committee of Ohio. This means lots of victorious telegrams. General Howard is the only man who can beat Thompson at that business.

Danbury News: How beautiful is the sea. One can stand upon the rocks of the coast and watch the incoming waves and listen delighted to their low music for hours at a time, and yet it is the sea that causes thousands of strong men to swear, chew plug, drink rum, go without suspenders and smell of tar.

A number of brawny negro "strikers" marched into a bagging factory in St. Louis, and compelled a lot of poor girls to stop work. The girls protested that they were contented with their wages and their places, but without effect. Incidents of this kind, says a St. Louis paper, makes us wonder what Gatling guns were made for.

The Rev. Dr. A. L. Stone, formerly of Boston, now pastor of the First Congregational Church of San Francisco, is not over-sanguine of the future of the Chinese in California. At one time he had 500 of them in his Sunday school, but was unable to manage them, as it took a teacher to every Chinese, and he was compelled to reduce the number to 150.

Baltimore Sun: Col. H. S. Taylor, of Gov. Carroll's staff, proceeded to Washington Saturday by direction of the Governor to thank President Hayes for the military aid so promptly rendered by the general government on the call of the Governor of Maryland. Colonel Taylor saw the Secretary of War in the temporary absence of the President, and executed his command with appropriate words. Secretary McCrary responded that the President was glad that he was able to render timely aid. The government authorities regarded Baltimore as so near the capital that the defence of the one was to some extent perhaps a protection to the other.

Anne Brewster says, in a letter from Rome to the Boston Advertiser: "The pilgrimages have ended and it is just as well they are over, for they have nearly killed the Pope; if they had continued much longer he could not have survived. The sudden and unusual heat of the season, added to the fatigue of receiving such crowds of people, has made the Pope unusually feeble. One day His Holiness had a long fit of fainting. When he revived, his attendants and doctors, seeing that he was deeply affected by his situation, said encouraging words. The Pope shook his head and replied, 'Do not flatter, I know that I am near my end.'"

Mr. Spurgeon says he would rather be hanged than write out a sermon. He once remarked to a visitor: "If I had a month given me to prepare a sermon, I would spend thirty days and twenty-three hours in something else, and in the last hour I would make the sermon." At the close of one of his most eloquent discourses he said to an interviewer: "The text was given to me by one of my deacons, who died yesterday, and requested in his last moments that I would preach from it. At 6 this morning I sat down to think out the discourse. I spent an hour upon the text and could make nothing out of it. I never could preach from other people's texts. I said this in my despair to my wife, who told me to try again. I tried again with the same result. 'Well,' said Mrs. S., 'go into the pulpit and the sermon will come to you.' I followed the advice, and you know the result."

NOTES AND OPINIONS.

There is in the North a Society fo the Prevention of Cruelty to Children.

The Mobile Register invites the colored voters into the Democratic ranks.

It is now positively settled that when the Russians reach Adrianople the Sultan and government will go to Broussa, on the Asiatic side of the Bosphorus.

The London News has a special from Alexandria which says: The obelisk (Cleopatra's needle) and the ship for its conveyance to London will be launched about the 10th of August, if the weather is favorable.

New York Herald: South Carolina's late ring rascals will soon be under lock and key. The Secretary of the Senate has just been arrested on the charge of larceny and forgery. They are all opposed to the President's Southern policy.

New York Baptist Weekly: The whole movement (strike and riots) will bring into worse repute than ever the labor unions of the country, and accomplish nothing in the way of improving the relations of the working people with their employers.

Captain H. W. Howgate, of the proposed polar expedition, writes to Sergeant Tighe, of the New Haven signal station: "Did I write you that our expedition would get off on or about the 25th? If not, let me now give you the pleasant news. The money has been secured, the vessel bought, and she is now nearly fitted up in readiness for departure."

New York Evangelist: It is a strange coincidence that all, or nearly all, the great riots which have occurred in the country for the last twenty years have come in the heat of summer. It is the madness of the dog days working in a new form and upon a new class of subjects. There should be no encouragement to the mob to make more violent demands in the future. They should be taught that mob violence only brings them loss instead of gain.

At Old Orchard Beach, Me., a novel camp-meeting is in progress. This meeting is termed a convention, under the superintendence of Dr. Charles Callis, of the faith institutions of Boston. Ministers and christians of all Protestant denominations are co-operating and working and worshipping together. Among the prominent officiating ministers are Dr. Callis, of the Episcopal Church; Rev. Mr. Dodd, of the English Established Church in Canada; Rev. Dr. I. M. Lee and R. Pearsall Smith, of the Presbyterian Church; Rev. Dr. Steele and Mr. Memger, of the Methodist Church; Rev. A. B. Earle, of the Baptist Church; several Congregational ministers, and Mrs. Hannah W. Smith, of the Quaker Church.—Cor. Baltimore Sun.

Richmond as a Tobacco Market.

It is needless for us to make any general reference to tobacco. "The weed" is, more or less intimately, the friend of almost all men, and so does not call on us to be the trumpeter of its fame. Richmond, on the James, has been long one of its chief strongholds, and no breach has yet been made in its walls. That city and its suburb, Manchester, contain many "steameries," where the leaf is prepared for shipment to foreign countries, markets for its sale being established at London, Liverpool, Glasgow, Havre, Amsterdam, Rotterdam, Antwerp, Bremen, Hamburg, Gibraltar, Genoa, Vienna, and other points. Virginia leaf of fine quality has, from the beginning of trade with this country, stood at the head of all tobaccos abroad, and it is hoped that her people, through indifferent attention to this crop, will not allow their prestige to be lost. It certainly will if the effort is not made to continue its production of fine quality. As important as this foreign trade is to the State, that in manufactured tobacco for American consumption is more important. There is no city in the United States that contains so many tobacco factories as Richmond. Chewing tobacco, in every conceivable shape, attractive to the eye and pleasant to the taste, is produced here; and this tobacco finds its way to every corner of the country, from Pugets' Sound to Boston. Then the enormous growth of cigarette consumption has brought into existence factories of a new type, and all these industries consume home-grown tobacco, or that of Virginia and North Carolina.

The following figures, furnished by the Bureau of Statistics at Washington, exhibit the growth of the cigarette interest in this country:

	Total Number.
Domestic and Imported, entered for consumption, during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1873,	27,353,644
Domestic and Imported, entered for consumption, during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1874,	29,103,984
Domestic and Imported, entered for consumption, during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1875,	41,328,000
Domestic and Imported, entered for consumption, during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1876,	77,420,556

It is no small advantage to North Carolina to have such a market as Richmond to take her crop, more especially as her product is mainly of tobaccos that fetch fine prices. The two highest averages ever obtained in the Richmond market, on crops of any size, were obtained by the brothers, Mr. T. B. Lyon and Mr. E. E. Lyon, of Granville county, in this State; and it is possible to produce this magnificent tobacco ("fancy bright") in all the northern and western counties in North Carolina. We have seen exquisite samples from Orange, Person, Caswell, Rockingham, Stokes, indeed, as far west as Buncombe. O.

Wall Street Values.

[N. Y. Times.]

Wall-street marvels have lost their power to puzzle, or the fluctuations of the last few days would afford scope for the exercise of not a little ingenuity. While events were depreciating the actual value of railroad property, the "bulls" contrived to force upward its market price. All the great thoroughfares were more or less completely blocked. Traffic was suspended. Enormous amounts of property were in jeopardy. Altogether, the losses of the companies, actual and constructive, almost exceed calculation. Nevertheless, their securities have been quoted in the market at higher figures than could be realized before these drawbacks occurred. There have been reiterated declarations on the part of managers that their roads were not earning expenses, and in other cases the hopelessness of looking for dividends is confessed. Still shares have risen, and reporters have gone so far as to speak of "a buoyant market." So with coal companies. They yet suffer from strikes. Many of the mines are flooded. They are, on their own showing, losing money. In spite of these circumstances, their stocks are higher than before. These facts teach but one lesson—the worthlessness of Stock Exchange transactions as criteria of values.

The Blue and the Gray.

An interesting fact attending the recent outbreak in Louisville, which was at once followed by the enrolment of nearly a thousand citizens for the protection of the city, was the service side by side of ex-Federal and ex-Confederate soldiers. Ex-Secretary Bristow, for instance, colonel of one of the Federal regiments recruited in Kentucky, stood guard with General Basil Duke, John Morgan's most dashing lieutenant, and ex-United States Marshal Eli H. Murray, the youngest brigadier in the Union Army, commanded one of the hastily mustered companies, while Maj. E. A. Richards, who served under General Lee, was one of his fellow-officers. Hundreds of ex-soldiers of the blue and gray stood shoulder to shoulder in the ranks.—N. Y. World.

INJUNCTION!

I have to notify the trade and the public generally that on the 8th of May last I obtained an injunction from Judge J. F. Daly, of the Court of Common Pleas for the city and county of New York, against a person styling herself "Madame Gouraud," restraining her from "selling, interfering with or in any manner disposing of the goods, chattels, Proprietary Articles, and trade marks of the late Dr. T. Felix Gouraud." This enjoins the sale of the Oriental Cream, Italian Medicated Soap, and all other of the proprietary articles of my deceased father. I have therefore to warn the trade against purchasing from the said "Madame Gouraud" any of said preparations, or from dealing in the same during the continuance of the said injunction. Meanwhile my Olympian Crea n is free from entanglement, and my right o its manufacture and sale unquestioned. The public will find it in quantity and quality at least equal to its late competitor, and its price reduced to One Dollar. The most harmless and effective skin beautifier known.

DR TUTTS PILLS

Meet the wants of those who need a safe and reliable medicine. The immense demand which has so rapidly followed their introduction is evidence that they do supply this want, and proves them to be ever furnished the American people. The highest medical authorities concede their superiority over all others, because they possess alterative, tonic, and healing properties contained in no other medicine. Being strongly Anti-Bilious, they expel all humors, correct a vitiated state of the system, and, being purely vegetable, they do not, like other pills, leave the stomach and bowels in a worse condition than they found them, but, on the contrary, impart a healthy tone and vigor before unknown.

OUR WORDS INDORSED

Dr. C. L. MITCHELL, Ft. Meade, Fla., says: "I know the superiority of your pills, and want to see them used instead of the worthless compounds sold in this country." . . .

Rev. R. L. SIMPSON, Louisville, Ky., says: "Tutt's pills are worth their weight in gold." . . .

Had Sick Headache & Piles 30 Years. "I am well. Gaining strength and flesh every day." . . . R. S. Austin, Springfield, Mass.

He Defies Chills and Fever. "With Tutt's pills, we defy chills. Illinois owes you a debt of gratitude." . . . F. R. Ripley, Chicago, Ill.

Sold everywhere. Price 25 cents. Office, 35 Murray Street, New York.

TUTT'S HAIR DYE

Gray hair is changed to a glossy black by a single application of this dye. It is easily applied, acts like magic, and is as harmless as spring water. Never disappoints. Sold by druggists. Price $1.00. Office, 35 Murray Street, New York.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

TARRANT'S SELTZER APERIENT Trade Mark Formula

The crucial test of the value of a medicine is time. Does experience confirm the claims put forth in its favor at the outset? is the grand question. Apply this criterion, so simple, yet so searching, to Tarrant's Effervescent Seltzer Aperient. How has it worns What has been its history? How does it stand to-day?

Tarrant's Seltzer Aperient

is a household name throughout the United States. It is administered as a specific, and with success, in dyspepsia, sick headache, nervous debility, liver complaint, billious remittents, bowel complaints, (especially constipation), rheumatism, gout, gravel, nausea, the complaints peculiar to the maternal sex, and all types of inflamation. So mild is it in its operation that it can be given with perfect safety to the feeblest child; and so agreeable is it to the taste, so refreshing to the palate, that children never refuse to take it. For sale by all druggists.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

——Nothing at mayor's court yesterday.

——The county commissioners meet Monday.

——Quite a lively business is going on in stored cotton.

——Revenue collections yesterday amounted to $715.52.

——Rev. J. J. Reilly returned to Newbern this morning.

——Some first-class operatic concerts are promised for October.

——The Register of Deeds yesterday issued two marriage licenses.

——No election to-day for township constables as the law provides.

——The board of aldermen hold their regular monthly meeting to-morrow evening.

——Col. L. L. Polk, commissioner of agriculture, makes an agricultural speech at Sandford, Moore county to-day.

——The agent of the Ætna Life Insurance Company paid the State tax on gross receipts yesterday, amounting to eleven hundred and ninety-two dollars.

——There is some talk of the supreme court adjourning Saturday, or at least of putting an end to arguments. The probabilities are that neither of these things will be done.

——A letter is held in the postoffice in this city, addressed to Edward Thompson, Esq., Durham, N. C., for lack of proper postage, only a one cent stamp being upon it.

——Yesterday Justice of the Peace Magnin issued a supœna duces tecum upon R. W. Best, Armstead Jones and Dr. G. W. Blacknall, officers of the late Southern Underwriters Association, to appear before him this morning with the books, papers &c. of the defunct Association.

——A gentleman of this city has a watermelon patch near Rhamkatte, and visiting it yesterday morning discovered an aged darkey guzzling at a rapid rate. "What are you doing here?" was the indignant demand.

"Trying of 'em," was the meek response.

"Who in the h—ll appointed you watermelon inspector?" was the irate rejoinder.

——The Orange Guards, an ante bellum military organization of Hillsboro, have completed their reorganization. They have applied for arms. H. P. Jones has been chosen Captain, and Benahan Cameron, 1st Lieutenant and A. W. Graham, 2d Lieutenant. They have 50 enlisted men. The company is composed of some of the best young men in the town and county. The uniform adopted is of a blue color with buff trimmings.

——Yesterday afternoon a little excitement took place in the grocery store of Johnston & Barber, Wilmington street. One of the proprietors, Mr. Johnston, had a dispute with Mr. I. D. Smith, words ran high and loud, and in rushed the crowd, followed by the police, expecting to see a fight. The parties engaged in the dispute were prevented from coming to blows by those present. They were arrested and recognized to appear before the mayor this morning.

Supreme Court.

The court met yesterday at the usual hour, all the Justices present. The call of cases placed at the end of the docket was resumed, as follows:

W. R. Perry vs. J. D. Whitaker, from Wake; argued by A. M. Lewis and J. H. Fleming for plaintiff, and Walter Clark for defendant.

P. J. Wray vs. J. H. Harris, from Wake; argued by Merrimon, Fuller & Ashe for plaintiff, and Busbee & Busbee for defendant.

A. C. Sanders vs. J. C. Ellington, from Wake; argued by Battle & Mordecai, Busbee & Busbee, and Gray & Stamps for plaintiff, and W. H. Pace and D. G. Fowle for defendant.

Jackson B. Hare vs. James W. Grant, adm'r., from Northampton; argued by D. A. Barnes and W. N. H. Smith for plaintiff, and R. B. Peebles and W. W. Peebles for defendant.

The court, at 12 M., adjourned until to-morrow at 9 o'clock.

Before the adjournment of the court Chief Justice Pearson retired from the bench on account of feeling unwell.

Licenses Issued.

Yesterday the sheriff issued licenses to the following parties to retail liquor in this city:

Alvis Sorrell, for three months; R. S. Perry, three months; W. D. Upchurch, five months; G. L. Tonnoffski, three months; L. D. H. Whitehead, three months; J. G. Sanders, three months; Z. W. Gill, six months; James Baker, three mouths.

There are a number of others to come.

Election of Constables.

To-day an election should have been held throughout the State for the election of constables in the several townships. The county commissioners of Wake, though duly notified, failed to order the opening of the registration books or the opening of the polls. The question is now whether the old constables hold over, and if not, how the vacancies are to be filled.

A Nice Point.

As the new magistrates go in next month, but not to fill the vacancies, the number of magistrates being increased, the question arises who is to issue execution on judgments taken before magistrates now and stayed. It looks like another casus omissus.

Gents' half hose, 3 pair for 25 cents adies' white hose, 3 pair for 25 cents Ballriggan hose, brown or white, 15 cents a pair; Misses white gloves, 10 cents a pair, worth 25 cents, and a lot of handkerchiefs, 60 cents a dozen, at Woollcott's Open Front Store.

The Trouble of the Defunct Underwriters' Association.

On the 14th of July, 1877, judgment was rendered by Albert Magnin, a Justice of the Peace, in favor of theplaintiff in the case of J. A. Pemberton vs the Southern Underwrters' Association for $87.19. This judgment was docketed on the same day in the superior court of Wake county, and execution issued to the sheriff. The execution was returned on that day wholly unsatisfied. The plaintiff, Pemberton, then instituted supplementary proceedings against the corporation, before the clerk of the superior court, under chapter 2, title 11, of the C. C. P., Col. J. W. Hinsdale appearing for them. Judgment was rendered at the last June term of the superior court of Wake county against the corporation in favor of Morris Hanf & Co., for $517.28, and in favor of E. F. Moore, Jr., $763.12 and in favor of V. W. Barnes for $1016.67. Hanf, Barnes and Moore each instituted supplementary proceedings before the clerk, as in the Pemberton case, against the corporation on the 16th of July, Messrs. Battle & Mordecai representing them, and Messrs. Merrimon, Fuller & Ashe representing the defendants in all four of these cases.

On the 16th all the above cases were set for hearing before the clerk of the superior court, John N. Bunting, who appointed C. D. Upchurch referee in all the cases to take the examination of defendant through its officers and of such witnesses as the parties should summon. By agreement of counsel for Hanf, Moore and Barnes, and the defendant's counsel, these cases were to abide the decision of Pemberton's case which was the first one instituted, and Messrs. Battle & Mordecai assisted Col. Hinsdale in the conduct of that case. The matter was then continued to the 17th of July. On that day the defendant's counsel moved, before C. D. Upchurch, Esqr., the referee, to dismiss the proceedings on the ground that the execution had been returned by the sheriff before the regular term of the court to which the execution was returnable. This motion was overruled by the referee after argument on both sides, and the matter again continued to the 19th of July. On the 19th of July defendant again moved to dismiss the proceedings on the following grounds:

1st. That there was no sufficient affidavit to support the proceedings.

2d. That the order of the clerk in the case did not summon the defendant to appear or require its appearance.

3d. That proceedings supplementary to execution could not be taken against a corporation under section 264, C. C. P. This motion was argued before J. N. Bunting, Esq., the clerk of the court, in person, as the defendant's counsel insisted that the referee appointed could not pass upon the questions involved, but could only take the examination of the persons summoned and report the same to the court. The clerk, after hearing arguments on both sides, decided the points in favor of the plaintiffs, and ordered the referee to proceed with the examination. The defendant appealed from this order and decision to the judge of the district, and insisted that the proceedings should be suspended and the examination postponed until after the appeal was heard and passed upon by the judge of the district at the next regular term of the superior court. The plaintiffs insisted that the examination should proceed on the ground that the order appealed from was interlocutory merely, and did not dispose of the matter finally. The point was decided in favor of the defendant, so that the defendant, and those connected with the case, cannot be examined in these cases until after October court.

Supplementary proceedings have also been instituted against the corporation in the case of Bonjour vs. Southern Underwriters' Association, R. G. Lewis, Esq., and Col. John W. Hinsdale, appearing for plaintiff, and Messrs. Merrimon, Fuller & Ashe for defendant. In this case the proceedings were commenced before His Honor, Judge Cox, on the 28th of July, and made returnable on the 30th July. The defendant's counsel moved that the proceedings be suspended in this case on the ground that other creditors had instituted supplementary proceedings before the clerk of the superior court upon other judgments, and urged that His Honor ought not to proceed further in the matter on account of the comity which existed between the judge of the district and the clerk of the court, Judge Bunting. His Honor decided that he would proceed in the case, and the defendant then moved to dismiss upon the same grounds taken before the clerk of the court, and at defendant's instance the further argument of the matter was postponed until to-day.

Cotton in Charlotte and Raleigh

It is interesting to notice how closely the cotton markets of Charlotte and Raleigh run together, both in point of receipts and the prices which the staple brings. We notice in the NEWS that up to last Friday evening the receipts in Raleigh from the 1st of September last were 43,571 bales, against 38,841 bales up to the same time last year. In Charlotte, the receipts from the 1st of September last up to last Friday evening, as stated in the Observer of Saturday, were 47,224 bales. The closing prices for the day mentioned in Raleigh, were 11⅛c; in Charlotte, same day, 11¼c.—Charlotte Observer.

The Brunswick Stew.

Yesterday the Brunswick stew, mentioned in yesterday's issue, came off at Dr. G. W. Blacknall's farm, the old Green place, three miles south of this city. A large and select crowd were present. The lay out is described by some of those present as splendid. The best of solids and liquids were in profusion, and a day of real enjoyment was passed. Speeches appropriate to the occasion were made by T. C. Fuller, I. J. Young, F. H. Busbee, W. A. Turk, R. C. Badger, Len. H. Adams, W. W. White, B. Y. Rogers and several others.

Ice Cream Sociable.

Hickman Lodge, Good Templars, this city, will hold an ice cream sociable this evening in their lodge room, over Branson's book-store, Fayetteville street, to which they cordially invite their friends. Vocal and instrumental music, speeches, &c., will constitute a part of the entertainment. Only 25 cents is charged for a ticket of admission, which entitles the purchaser to a plate of ice cream.

A Young Woman in the Village of Marion

Sat sewing with her lamp in her lap. A sudden motion threw her lamp to the floor; it broke, the oil caught fire, exploded and burned the young woman to death. Pratt's Astral Oil will not explode under any circumstances. Burns in any lamp; is free from smoke or smell. Julius, Lewis & Co., Hardware Merchants, Raleigh, N. C., Sole agents for Pratt's Astral Oil.

The Grand Excursion.

The Charlotte Observer says that Mr. J. L. Waldrop, general southern passenger agent, was in the city Tuesday, advertising a grand excursion to Beaufort over the Richmond & Danville (North Carolina division) and Atlantic & North Carolina Railroads. It further says that a number of first-class passenger cars will be attached to the regular train which leaves there in the afternoon at 5:25. At Goldsboro they will be transferred to the regular train on the Atlantic & Nortn Carolina without delay. In addition to the first-class coaches a Lucas sleeping car will be attached to the train at Charlotte and run through to Morehead City. The fare for the round trip from Charlotte has been reduced to the remarkably low sum of $6.50, with proportionate decrease from points nearer Beaufort. The train will reach this city next Thursday morning, 4 o'clock. The tickets are good till the 18th to return on any regular train.

The Colored Insane Asylum.

The commissioners charged with the establishment and location of an asylum for the colored insane of the State met, according to agreement, in Wilmington last Tuesday. The only business transacted was the selection of Goldsboro as the place of location. The female college in this last mentioned town is one of the places offered for the purpose, but no definite arrangement has yet been made.

Bitten by a Rattlesnake.

Last Monday a colored girl about 13 years of age, daughter of Richard Dunn, colored, who lives on the premises of Mr. Walter Jeffreys, near Neuse depot, this county, was bitten by a rattlesnake. The snake was soon killed and found to have four rattles. The girl lingered till yesterday, when she died in great agony. The rattlesnake is very rare in this section, and its appearance excites general consternation in the neighborhood where it is discovered.

Manly and Keyser.

As the trains already run tri-weekly to Manly and Keyser cannot Maj. Winder and the Postoffice Department between them arrange to have the mail carried. A good depot, hotel and three stores have been erected at Keyser, and at Manly a depot and some other houses have been constructed.

Hoffman.

A new station by the above name has been established on the Raleigh & Augusta Air-Line Railroad, midway between Keyser and Hamlet.
